

HOW THEY VOTED.

The House of Representatives in Committee of the Whole defeated the motion to concur in the Senate Substitute for the Bond bill by a vote of 190 to 80, a majority of 110 against the Silver amendment. In the House on Friday when the ayes and nays were called on the bill, the vote stood 216 to 90, a majority of 125 against it. This was a record-making vote and 305 members are recorded for or against free coinage. Out of the 356 members comprising the House of Representatives only 37 are unaccounted for. The others voted or were paired for or against the bill. An analysis of the vote shows that 134 Republicans and 31 Democrats voted against the bill, and 58 Democrats, 25 Republicans and 7 Populists and Silver men voted for it.

The Substitute for the Bond bill, it should be understood, provides for the free coinage of silver and the issuance of silver certificates for the $53,000,000 seigniorage to relieve the present money stringency. The Bond bill passed by the House, for which this Silver bill was a substitute, provided for the issuance of more bonds. The Silver bill received only 25 Republican votes out of 244 Republican votes in the House. What further proof is necessary to convince any rational human being that the Republican party is unalterably opposed to silver? In the face of such positive evidence to the contrary, how can any intelligent person in the State of Nevada, who believes that the restoration of silver would make the State prosperous, support the Republican party? Why should the mine owner, who has to abandon his property; the mill owner, whose machinery is rusting from disuse; the farmer, who has to sell his products, if he sells them at all, below the cost of production; the mechanic and laborer out of employment; in short, why should any citizen of Nevada who desires better times vote for a party whose vote on a measure that would benefit the State and Nation, and obviate the necessity of issuing bonds, or in anyway countenance it?

ADVERTISING LAWS.

The Lyon County Times has the following in connection with the recent decision of Judge Cheney in Lyon county, relative to advertising property sold for taxes:

The Times has argued this advertising proposition with several Boards of Commissioners of this county, until it became to be looked upon as an advertising crank. It has always come out second best, because the former Boards of Commissioners have thought that any advertising given to us was a cold-blooded steal. Now it appears that the laws must be obeyed or there will be trouble. The laws of advertising are all drawn on the lines of serving the public, and preventing fraud, but there are not enough of them and they are not strictly enough enforced. This one Lyon county case will cost the county more than all the advertising would come to of property so sold for years past. The lawyers get the dough and the papers get it—d.

The old Republican regime in the State Capitol, for years systematically ignored the mandatory provisions of the laws relating to advertising. Gen. Beatty has advised all State Boards that advertising laws are on the Statute books to be obeyed, and that the Boards have no option in the matter. General Beatty's view in this matter is a sound legal one and the press of the State should not forget it.

One of the young burglars recently arrested in Oakland says that he learned how to crack a safe by reading a detailed description of the method in a San Francisco paper. This comes of having ex-burglars on the reportorial staff instead of regular graduates from the Yale School of Journalism.

The Call is the best daily paper published in San Francisco. Under the able management of Charles M. Shortridge, it is also fast becoming the leading paper.—S. F. Star.

Any good judge of newspapers can endorse the above.

The Examiner says that married men are not wanted on Polar expeditions. One would think that the fun of staying out all night in the Arctic circle when the night is six months long would be something well worth while for a married man to tackle.

Chicago has compiled a bible of her own for use in the public schools. It is safe to say that no mention of the rival city of St. Louis, is to be found anywhere inside the covers.
